ABOUT THE FACULTY

Barbara J. Wilson, MS, RN, AOCN, ACNS-BC, OCN

Barbara J. Wilson is a Clinical Nurse Specialist with advanced practice certification in oncology nursing.

In addition to an oncology nursing career in acute health care settings, she has been a lifelong learner and educator. Barbara has articles published in peer reviewed journals and numerous local, regional and national presentations to oncology nursing and oncology professional audiences. She has served as clinical faculty for several nursing programs and has authored chapters in the Oncology Nursing Society "Chemotherapy and Biotherapy/Immunotherapy Guidelines and Recommendations for Practice" and Core Curriculum Study Guide.

She was selected to represent the ONS membership at large to co-author the "Oncology Nursing Society Scope and Standards of Practice" released in March 2019. Most recently she represented "clinical practice" on the ONCC Task Force to re-define "nursing practice for certification eligibility." This revision was approved by the Board for implementation January 2021.
